VEGGIETALES: AM I FULL OF PROSPERITY?

© 1995 Big Idea Productions, Inc.

Supposed previous ep: God Wants Me To Forgive Them?!?
Supposed next ep: Are You My Neighbor?

PLOT

Bridge Over Pumpkin Pie: A pumpkin named Titan was making a huge amount of Pumpkin Pies for an upcoming Thanksgiving. When all of his pies are sold, he had 14 left to use up and some customers, Bob and Larry, Junior and his parents, two grape siblings, a banana and an apple wanted to but the pies were 10 and Titan didn't know what to do, but he then decided to share 2 with Bob and Larry, 3 for Junior and his parents, 2 for Eren and Levi, 1 for Aether, 2 for the two grape siblings, 1 for a banana, and 1 for an apple and he has one for himself.

War and Peaches: Norman the Peach and his peach friends, Andrew and Pierre become drawn into a war conflict between their Peach Family and the Cherry Family. When Norman meets Lola the Cherry, they hang out together. But Norman and his friends don't know what to do. They go to King Bob and find a way to stop the family conflict. After the family conflict gets resolved, the Peaches and Cherries encounter an unexpected enemy who interrupts their cheering.

SCRIPT

THEME SONG

Theme song is the 1994 version from God Wants Me to Forgive Them!?!.

COUNTERTOP INTRO

(After the theme song finishes, we fade from black to the countertop.)

Bob: Hi kids, and welcome to VeggieTales. I’m Bob the Tomato…

Larry: And I’m Larry the Cucumber!

Bob: And we’re here to answer your questions.

Larry: Right!

Bob: So, Larry…

Larry: What, Bob?

Bob: How was your day?

Larry: Mine was good. I drank a grape slushy at Mr. Slushy. What did you do today?

Bob: I was hanging out with my friend, David, at the comic book store. David had trouble deciding on what comic book to buy, and didn't know how to solve the conflict in his situation.

Larry: What was the conflict that David was facing?

Bob: David was interested in the next issue of the Speedster comic book, and the Dr. Tomato comic book, but he only had enough money for only one of the comic books.

Larry: That is a tough decision. How is he going to solve the conflict?

Bob: We'll figure it out together, since we also got a letter from Kate Sanders of Las Vegas, Nevada.

Larry: What's up, Kate?

Bob: She wants to know what it means to solve problems, and how and why they should be solved.

Larry: Oh, wow. That's a tricky question.

Bob: Well, Larry, I think Kate and David should check out the story of "Bridge Over Pumpkin Pie". Maybe that'll help them out with their situations.

Larry: Yeah. Hopefully this'll do good for both of them..

(The screen fades to black.)

BRIDGE OVER PUMPKIN PIE

(fade in)

Bob: (narrating) It all started when Larry and I were gathering up our favorite foods at the general store.

Larry: (narrating) The store was named “Titan’s Delicious Foods.” Now, Titan is a kind fellow, he loves to bake all kinds of goodies like cookies, cupcakes, and birthday cakes.

Bob: And every day, when he’s working, he would sing this little ditty.

Titan: My heart belongs to delicious foods,
To delicious foods, dear delicious foods,
And in the kitchen I walk in delicious foods
Singing happily, oh so, happily! Play it off, Coucho!

Coucho: Okay!

(Coucho then pops out a piece of toast.)

Cook cook, zootazita dim long day!
Bake bake zingazingazing those microwaves just play.
Sing, sing, everybody’s singing all their cares away.
Ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, life’s okay
When you sing tra-la-la-la, Cook, Bake, Yay!

(The doorbell rings and Scallion #2 arrives at the store.)

Titan: Welcome to Titan’s Delicious Foods, how may I help you?

Scallion #2: Hello, I’d like a grilled cheese sandwich.

Titan: Coming right up.

Sing, sing, everybody’s singing all their cares away.
Ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, life’s okay
When you sing tra-la-la-la, Cook, Bake, Yay!

You know, Coucho. This is perhaps the best job I’ve ever had.

Coucho: And what makes you say that?

Titan: Because I love cooking, and baking, especially for my convenience store here. Here you go sir, a grilled cheese sandwich! Have a nice day.

Scallion #2: Gee thanks.

Titan: Ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, life’s okay
When you sing tra-la-la-la, Cook, Bake, Yay! Zing hey!

(song ends)

Bob: That's what he does all right. Make food and sing for the masses. But his favorite food to make is pumpkin pie. He bakes it almost every day.

Titan: And do you know why? Because everybody loves pumpkin pie! Especially on Thanksgiving. I have to get these Thanksgiving pumpkin pies organized so they can be ready for my hungry customers. Coucho, do we have everything ready for our annual Thanksgiving sale?

Coucho: I believe so. You must bake these pies by the dozen! (bell rings and crowd sounds are heard) What was that?

Titan: My gigantic line of customers have arrived!

Larry: That's how it was every Thanksgiving for Titan. He always sells his pumpkin pies for his hungry customers, until one day.

Titan: Oh, man! There aren't enough pumpkin pies in this world for Thanksgiving dinner this year! I only have ten, and I want them all to myself! What am I gonna do? I'm gonna have to protect them. (door rings) Ugh, a customer. I hope they're not here for my pies. (goes to the counter) Hello, can I help you?

Bob: Hiya, Titan.

Titan: Oh, it's you. What do you want?

Larry: Could we get a pie for our Thanksgiving dinner?

Titan: A pie? (looks over) Hmm, I don't know. (to himself) I know it's Thanksgiving and they oughta have the pie, but I want to keep the pie to myself. What can I do? (to the two) Uh, let me think about that. (runs back into the kitchen) Coucho! I've got a crisis on our hands. Bob and Larry want one of my pies.

Coucho: What's wrong with that?

Titan: I intended to have the pies to myself!

Coucho: Well, think about it. You can't have all of them.

(Bell rings)

Titan: More customers? Hold your thought, my talking toaster. (to the counter) Yes, can I help you?

Freddy: Hey dude, me and my friend want some pumpkin pie. You know I'm apple intolerant.

Titan: You are an apple, you know!

Freddy: I know.

Benny: But we want a pie and we want one, now!

Titan: NO!

Junior: So do we, we would like some pie. Pumpkin pie is a delicious treat for my family. What would hurt to buy some?

Titan: We also have cherry, apple, and grape pie to serve to the customers.

Junior: The other pie flavors sound delicious, but it's a family tradition to have pumpkin pie for Thanksgiving.

Titan: I understand, we don't want disappointed customers.

(Titan hops to the grape kids to listen to their pie request)

Grape Kid #1 and Grape Kid #2: Same here!

Everyone: We all want some pies!

(The customers in line start cheering and yelling indistinctly. Titan, panicked, runs back into the kitchen to alert Coucho.)

Titan: COUCHO! The entire store is flooded with pie lovers! What can I do? Am I not of prosperity? I want all those pies, but I can't let those guys starve. I'm stuck between a rock and a hard place!

Coucho: Why not share?

Titan: Hmm, share? Let me get this straight. You mean, if I give my half of the pies to the customers, and I keep some of my half, that way, everybody can get their pies?

Coucho: Yes. Besides, God likes it when we share.

Titan: So He does. Hey, I've got an idea. But I'll need your help.

(Sometime later)

Titan: Step right up folks, I've got pies for each and every one. Here's two for you Bob and Larry. Three for the Asparagus family, two for you two, and one for you Mr. Apple…

Freddy: Thanks, dude.

Titan: And one for you.

Benny: Muchas gracias. Keep the change. (the money is given to Titan)

(Two other customers enter the store.)

Eren: The pumpkin pies are huge, I bet I can eat more than one pie at the same time.

Levi: (sighs) Eren, don't go overboard.

Eren: I worked hard during scout regiment training, it would feel good to reward ourselves.

Levi: True, we could split the pies between ourselves, and put whipped cream on top as a bonus.

Eren: Sounds delicious.

(Titan hops over to Eren and Levi.)

Titan: Do you guys need help with anything?

Eren: We decided on two pumpkin pies, we just need whipped cream for the top of them.

(Eren and Levi grab two pumpkin pies and follow Titan to the whipped cream stand. Titan shows Eren and Levi the bottles of whipped cream.)

Eren: Cherry Swirl whipped cream sounds awesome!

Levi: I agree.

(Eren grabs a bottle of Cherry Swirl whipped cream and puts it in the basket with the pumpkin pies, then they pay for the items. Cut to the two outside.)

Eren: The pie tastes so good with the whipped cream, it tastes like a yummy paradise.

Levi: I agree, the flavors are like a water slide of deliciousness.

(Eren and Levi smile, while they finish eating their pies at the picnic table. Then, Aether, an adventurer, enters Titan's Delicious Foods to do some grocery shopping for his Thanksgiving meal.)

Aether: (grabs a shopping basket) Wow, there's a lot of delicious food in the store.

(He sees a turkey in the freezer.)

Aether: Woah, the turkey is bigger than my chest.

(Aether puts the turkey in his basket, and walks to the butter rack. He grabs the box of butter and puts it into his basket. Cut to him seeing a stand of pumpkin pies.)

Aether: (looking in awe) The pies look so delicious.

(Aether puts the pumpkin pies in his basket, and then grabs a canister of Cherry Swirl whipped cream. He puts the canister in his basket.)

Aether: The grocery shopping list has been checked off and completed. I'll go pay for the items.

(The scene crossfades to Aether now ready to check out.)

Aether: The items have been paid for. Time to take the groceries back home and enjoy my Thanksgiving meal.

(Aether leaves the store with his bags of groceries. Cut to Titan smiling, as he thanks the customers for buying their Thanksgiving supplies from his store.)

Titan: Thank you, have a nice Thanksgiving. And finally, one for me! You know what Coucho, you're right. God likes it when we share our blessings. Hey, would you like to have a slice tomorrow?

Coucho: I would love to, Titan.

Bob: And that's how it was at Titan's Delicious Foods, he learned that we must share our blessings, and on Thanksgiving, we all had our thanksgiving dinner. The en-

Titan: Wait! We forgot to say grace! (looks up to the heavens) Father, we give thanks for this bountiful food you bestow upon us. Amen. Let's eat! (sings) Cook, Bake, Yay! Zing hey!

Bob: As I was saying, The End.

THE CHICKEN EMPORIUM

(Screen fades from black, revealing Pa Grape and his family at the dinner table)

Pa: What's for dinner, Ma?

Ma: Well, Pa, it's your favorite, chuck roast beef!

The Grape Family: NOT AGAIN!!

Pa: We had that for breakfast!

Tom: And lunch.

Rosie: Everyday for 14 years.

(audience laughter)

Ma: You'll eat it and like it!

The Grape Family: No way, we won't! (they fight each other, yelling indistinctly)

(audience laughter)

Voice: Ha ha! Hold it right there! (the Grapes stop) Fighting over the same old dinner? Well stop feuding and start feeding.

(audience laughter. It jump cuts to the grape family at a special restaurant, and in comes Titan the Pumpkin in a chicken costume. Audience's continued laughter transitions to applause)

Titan: Welcome to Colonel Poultry's Chicken Emporium, where the chicken is cock-a-doodle good. At the Colonel's, we protect, but also feed our chickens daily. And also, we have chickens cooked to your specification.

Tom and Rosie: We want ours with a stick!

Pa: Don't mind, please.

Titan: Folks come as far as Manhattan, New York just to lick our chickens.

Titan: Here at the Colonel's, we have something for everyone! Try our fried chicken tenders or our grilled chicken.

Tom: But what about some people who have no teeth?

Titan: Don’t worry, Tom. We got mashed potatoes, with fresh country gravy. (we see one of them sucking on it through a straw, the apple dude from Bridge Over Pumpkin Pie) Suck hardy! And don’t forget a side of our special french fries! And no meal would be complete without the Colonel’s famous mac and cheese!

Rosie: Sounds delicious, It makes me hungry thinking about the food.

Titan: All our meals are made and prepared by our special courteous staff. If you ever come to the Chicken Emporium, remember the colonel’s guarantee, if you can’t keep it down, you eat for free!

(More audience applause as Titan winks. Iris out)

WAR AND PEACHES

(fade in)

Narrator: A long time ago, in the Middle Ages, there lived two armies. The Peaches and the Cherries. The Peaches and Cherries lived in the land of Camelot, ruled by King Bob. One of the peaches was named Norman, a noble peach and one of the Peach Army’s best fighters. Unlike all the Peaches, Norman went to church and followed God’s way over his generals and the other peaches. As Norman kept progressing into God’s will and study, the Peaches and Cherries continued into dark conflict. Then one day, Norman got an idea.

Priest (Archibald): Well, Norman, I see you have more trust in the Lord than anyone here in Camelot. Your family has been quite through a lot of commotion, what’s up?

Norman: Priest, sir. I was wondering, why can’t my family ever live in harmony with each other?

Priest: Well, you know how your brother Jonathan likes to play rough? Have you ever tried talking to him?

Norman: No, he’s kinda hard-seeded.

Priest: Uh, what do you mean?

Norman: He’s got this deep rooted character trait that basically he can’t have peace with anyone or even anything.

Priest: Well, why not go ask the King? Maybe he can put an end to this savage war he’s bestowed upon us.

Norman: The King? Should I?

Priest: It's the only way. Now, go, it's almost closing time.

Norman: Oh, all right.

Narrator: And so, as Norman headed his way towards the King's castle, he bumped into…

(Norman bumps into Lola the Cherry and they both fall down.)

(Both characters interposing)
Norman: I'm sorry, I didn't know where I was going and….
Lola: I'm so sorry. I didn't see you there for a sec and…
Both: (simultaneously) Whoa!!!!

Lola: Um...hi.

Norman: Hello, um, my name is Norman the Peach. I probably shouldn't be talking to you.

Lola: Yeah, me neither. But you know what? I think you're kind of cool.

Norman: Really?

Lola: Uh-huh, allow me to introduce myself, Norm. I'm Lola the Cherry, but you can just call me Lola. Um, what brings you here?

Norman: I'm on my way to see King Bob. I need to talk to him about stopping the war.

Lola: What a coincidence, I was gonna do the same thing. Why, I know where the King's castle is! Follow me!

Norman: Okay!

Narrator: And so, they went off to the king's castle, in hopes of searching for wisdom, meanwhile, Norman's brother was planning another strike.

(Jonathan walks in and notices a strawberry at the stand, preparing the pies for the war.)

Jonathan: Do you have the pies ready?

Levi: Yes I do. But don't you think this has gone far enough, the amount of pies that have been thrown during the war has affected the economy of Strawberryville and Camelot. If the war continues, the prices of crops will rise, and families will suffer..

Jonathan: Not as far as the Pie War.

Levi: As a noble strawberry, I think you should have some prosperity and think about what is best for everyone.

Jonathan: Nonsense! Stopping the war is the aspiration of idiots and dreamers! But wait...why would I do that? Come to think of it, I don't even know what's right from wrong anymore.

Narrator: Meanwhile, at the castle…

Larry the Squire: Your majesty!

King Bob: Yes?

Larry the Squire: You have visitors.

King Bob: A peach and cherry together. An odd sight in these times.

Norman: Greetings, king.

Lola: Hello, we've got a problem on our hands.

King Bob: What's up, kids? What can I do for you?

Norman: I'm sick and tired of my family members putting on these stupid wars on Camelot.

Lola: Me too.

Norman: We were wondering if you have some advice, you can give us.

King Bob: Why not tell your family members how you feel? God doesn't want us to keep our feelings to ourselves. He tells us to reach out to people and express our feelings.

Norman: Do you think that'll work?

King Bob: Most of my advice helps everyone all over Camelot, why can't this one?

Lola: I suppose you do have a point. Norman, let's agree to tell our family members this on the battlefield.

Norman: Deal! Thanks for your help, King.

King Bob: Any time, But also thank God.

Narrator: Meanwhile, The Peaches and Cherries have their pies loaded.

Seti the Cherry: Get ready to eat pies, Jonathan!

Jonathan: I'm not sure that we should do this

Seti: Ready, aim...FIRE! (he catapults some blueberry pie all over Jonathan, but this doesn't anger him)

Jonathan: Ready, aim, fire. (he catapults chocolate pie at Seti)

Seti: Oh, you wouldn't like me when I'm angry! (he was about to unleash another pie throw until…)

Norman: Wait!

Lola: Stop!

Norman: Don't throw anymore pies!

Jonathan: Norman, what's going on?

Norman: I have had it up to here with all this foolish pie throwing! Cease and desist!

Seti: But why?

Lola: Camelot was supposed to be a peaceful city! Ever since we traveled to the city, You have been fighting with Norman's brother.

Norman: God wants us to be nice to people. Nobody should be throwing pies at each other

Lola: What do you have to say for yourselves?

Jonathan: This whole pie act is just silly. Maybe we should forfeit the battle. Seti, what do you think?

Seti: Well, I don't know.

Jonathan: Please, for the safety of the city

Seti: Well, if it makes you happy, then the war is off. From this moment forward, Peaches and Cherries will live in harmony.

(The Peaches and Cherries all cheer)

Jonathan: Thanks for persuading us. If it weren't for you, I would've been eating pies until I was sick.

Seti: Same here.

(The Priest hops to King Bob and gives him the peace treaty between the Peaches and the Cherries)

The Priest: This is the peace treaty. Once it is signed, it will confirm that the Peaches and Cherries are at peace with each other.

(King Bob nods and signs the peace treaty for the Peaches and the Cherries)

King Bob: I hereby from here on officially declare peace!

(King Bob holds up the signed peace treaty as the crowd cheers. Suddenly a gust of wind blows through the area as Prince Jean-Claude and Prince Christophe hop to the crowd and interrupt their cheering.)

Jean-Claude: Bonjour Cherries and Peaches, we are here to take over your land.

Jonathan: If you want to take over our land, you have to go through us. Where is your champion?

Christophe: Oui, We are part of the French Pea clan, and we have our champion to defend us.

Jean-Claude: Your troops are so small and puny, they are like little ants, that we can squish by hopping on you.

(Jean-Claude and Christophe laugh as Jonathan gets frustrated.)

Norman: Jonathan, is everything ok?

Jonathan: These guys think that they can intimidate us.

(Norman hops to The French Peas.)

Norman: We believe in our God, He gives us strength to take on anyone in our path. Who is your champion?

Jean-Claude: Come on out, Goliath. They think that they can defeat us with their pointy sticks!

(Goliath hops onto the battlefield and towers over Norman.)

Jean-Claude: Goliath is our strongest warrior, and can destroy anyone in his path.

Goliath: (growls) I will crush you like a twig, you are weak, and can't defeat me.

Norman: (scared) I believe in our God, He will give me the strength to defeat you.

Goliath: (laughs) Your God doesn't exist, and you will bow down to me and become my loyal servant for the rest of your life.

Norman: (takes a deep breath) Just breathe, don't let him scare and intimidate you.

(Norman takes out his slingshot and puts a rock on the string. He points the slingshot at Goliath.)

Goliath: (laughs) You think a rock can defeat me. This isn't my first battle, kid. Will you try harder, or is your brain as small as a bug?

(Norman takes the rock off the string, and puts the slingshot away. Norman finds a container of tomatoes, and puts them into the cannon.)

(The cannon launches the tomatoes at Goliath, as he stumbles backwards, while Goliath is stumbling, the French Peas get scared as their warrior shows weakness.)

Goliath: That was a good hit, kid, You made me stumble, but I am not defeated yet.

(Goliath hops closer to Norman as the ground shakes)

Goliath: Feel the wrath of the bouncy monster balls!

(Goliath throws the bouncy monster balls (the Closet Monsters from Where's God When I'm S-Scared? at Norman. Norman tries to dodge the bouncy monster balls and gets hit by them. Norman lays on the ground, catching his breath.)

Monster #1: Feel our wrath. We are scary.

Monster #2: We are dangerous, and we can give you nightmares.

Monster #3: (maniacal laugh) We can tickle you to death, by bouncing on you, until you cry tears of laughter.

Norman: Stay away from me!

Goliath: Your God won't help you. Surrender or be squished.

Monster #1: Surrender

Monster #2: We need a new toy to play with!

Monster #3: Peaches are round and bouncy. We want to play with you and roll you, until you get tired and exhausted.

Norman: I don't know what to do, I need the strength to overcome and win the battle.

Jonathan: We believe in you, Norman, you got this.

(Norman stands up from the ground, as the music starts to get upbeat and Norman regains his strength and confidence)

(During the song, The French Peas, Goliath, and the Bouncy Monster Balls hop back in fear)

(Norman sings the song while standing confidently on the battlefield)

I was broken and battered
My strength was depleted
I was ready to give up
Until my friends gave me a sign

Rise Up! Rise Up!
Defeat my enemies with honor
My strength is my weapon
My brain is my knowledge and mind

My enemies will fall
They will crumble to our feet
They will beg for mercy
They will retreat with dignity

Rise Up! Rise Up!
Take back our freedom and our land
We will be legends
In the blaze of glory

Our voices will shout out like thunder
Our enemies will shake in fear
We won't bow to your hate
You can't control us and our hearts

Rise Up! Rise Up!
Our love is gonna be a battle
I'll stay in the game
To give it my all, my heart, and my soul

(Norman stands confidently in front of his opponents, while they cower in fear.)

Norman: Surrender or feel the wrath of the Peaches and the Cherries!

Jean-Claude: (trembles in fear) We won't surrender!

(Norman puts the container of cabbages in to the cannon, and blasts it at the French Peas, Goliath, and the Bouncy Monster Balls)

(The French Peas, Goliath, and the Bouncy Monster Balls surrender)

Goliath: Ugh, you win. Cabbage is my weakness, and makes me tired and exhausted.

Monster #1: Bleh, cabbage. I don't like cabbage, it gets stuck on my mohawk.

Monster #2: I am scared of cabbage. I had a nightmare once about a giant cabbage swallowing me, and my world turning into darkness and shadows.

Monster #3: I agree, I hate cabbage so much that I want to crush it while hopping on it.

Norman: (growls) Don't come back, if you do, you will face our wrath with our confidence and strength.

(Norman stands confidently, with the Peaches and Cherries behind him for support)

Jean-Claude: Retreat, the Peaches and Cherries are strong and mighty.

Christophe: We'll be back and we'll be stronger than ever before!

Norman: (growls) Don't count on it, we will push you back to France with our weapons and our strength.

Jean-Claude: Oui, we should listen to the peach, it would ruin our reputation, if we lose to them again.

(Christophe and Jean-Claude agree with each other, as they gather their troops to retreat back to France.)

(Goliath, The Bouncy Monster Balls, and the French Peas hop away in terror, as the Peaches and Cherries cheer for their victory)

(Norman hops back to the Cherries and Peaches, as they celebrate Norman's victory)

Jonathan: That's my boy, you protected us from the enemies and protected our kingdom from harm.

Norman: Thanks Jonathan, our men and God's love gave me the strength and confidence to protect and defend our kingdom.

(Norman and Jonathan hug each other for support)

Narrator: And that's the story of how young Norman and Lola stopped the nonsensical pie throwing acts, defeated Goliath and the French Peas, and brought peace to Camelot. The End!

COUNTERTOP OUTRO

(fade in, Bob and Larry are at the left corner of Qwerty.)

Bob: Hmm, that was some war, huh?

Larry: I'm still curious about what war has to do with peaches.

Bob: We'll talk about this later. (clears throat) Ahem… It's time to talk about what we learned today.

Singers: (singing) And so what we have learned applies to our lives today
And God has a lot to say in His book!

Bob: (calmly annoyed) Oh man, not again.

Larry: What's wrong, Bob?

Bob: The song played again from the shadow realm.

Larry: The song is catchy though.

Bob: I can't control it though.

Larry: Bob, breathe. The universe is helping the show to run smoothly.

(Bob gets annoyed by the song and hops to Qwerty. Bob is pressing keys on Qwerty's keyboard to try to stop the song, until Qwerty freezes from an overload error.)

Larry: Nooooo, Bob, you broke Qwerty!

Bob: Don't worry, we can press Qwerty's power button, and restart him.

(Bob and Larry hop to Qwerty to press the power button on Qwerty. As he restarts, as the computer loads up to the wallpaper background on the screen)

Larry: Whew, we can finish the show!

Bob: Yep, I was worried that I broke the 4th wall.

Larry: Don't worry, the 4th wall gets broken every week.

(What We Have Learned continues in the background)

Singers: (singing) You see, we know that God's word is for everyone
And now that our song is done we'll take a look.

Bob: Well anyways, in our first story, Titan learned that God likes it when we share our blessings, especially pumpkin pies.

Larry: Yep, and in the Middle Ages, the Peaches and the Cherries were taught that it's okay to express your feelings and that war isn't the best answer.

Bob: That's right, Larry. Say, let's see if Qwerty has a verse for us.

(Bob and Larry hop over to Qwerty, who then pulls up the verse.)

Bob: Philippians 2:4: "Everyone should look out not only for his own interests, but also for the interests of others." (to viewer) So, that means one way we can solve problems is keep others in mind, and not just ourselves. Well, we're out of time for today, but remember…

Larry: God made you special, and He loves you very much.

Bob: Bye.

Larry: Adiós.

(Bob and Larry hop off, the screen fades to black, and the credits start rolling.)

CLOSING CREDITS

NOTE: Use the instrumental of “Cook, Bake, Yay!” for the credits. Credits are in a black background.

“Bridge Over Pumpkin Pie”
Written and Directed by: PHIL VISCHER
Design: CHRIS OLSEN, PHIL VISCHER
Animation Direction: CHRIS OLSEN
Animation: ROBERT ELLIS, HEATHER JONES, MIKE NAWROCKI, CHRIS OLSEN, PHIL VISCHER, RON SMITH
Clean-up & Render Management: LESLY BENODIN
Voices: DAN ANDERSON, GAIL FREEMAN, HEIDI LANDIS, MIKE NAWROCKI, BRIDGET POWER, LISA VISCHER, PHIL VISCHER
Dialogue Breakdown, Audio and Video Editing: MIKE NAWROCKI
Score: KURT HEINECKE
“Cook, Bake, Yay!” Words by: PHIL VISCHER; Based on; Italian Street Song; Produced by: KURT HEINECKE

“The Chicken Emporium”
Written by: PHIL VISCHER
Animation: ROBERT ELLIS, HEATHER JONES, MIKE NAWROCKI, CHRIS OLSEN, RON SMITH
Music by: KURT HEINECKE
Design & Direction: CHRIS OLSEN

“War and Peaches”
Written and Directed by: PHIL VISCHER
Design: CHRIS OLSEN, PHIL VISCHER
Animation Direction: CHRIS OLSEN
Animation: ROBERT ELLIS, HEATHER JONES, MIKE NAWROCKI, CHRIS OLSEN, RON SMITH
Clean-up & Render Management: LESLY BENODIN
Voices: DAN ANDERSON, GAIL FREEMAN, HEIDI LANDIS, MIKE NAWROCKI, CHRIS OLSEN, BRIDGET POWER, LISA VISCHER, PHIL VISCHER
Dialogue Breakdown, Audio and Video Editing: MIKE NAWROCKI

Score Composition: KURT HEINECKE, PHIL VISCHER
Score Production: KURT HEINECKE
“Rise Up” Words and Music: PHIL VISCHER; Produced by: KURT HEINECKE
Content Consultant: SCOTTIE MAY Ed.D.
All Songs © 1995 Big Idea Productions

© 1995 Big Idea Productions, Inc.

The REAL people who will make this “fake” episode

Manny Dan
Cole Wright
Jonathan Teka
Jordangaming101
Cmanflip, 321Blender, and Liam Taheny - Character rigs

THE REAL CREDITS:

Written by - Veston Bruno, Mr. Nebba, CleverHilarious 20, FarinaArtist Studios
Script Editing by - Variety Central, CleverHilarious 20, VeggieTales Collector
Directed by - Variety Central
Produced by - CleverHilarious 20
Story by - Cole Wright
Storyboards - Alex Pikmin, Zeb the 3rd
Layout - WhataRecorder Buddy
Animation Direction -
Animation - Liam Taheny, WhataRecorder Buddy, Cmanflip, FarinaArtist Studios
Lighting - Mr. Nebba
Lighting Director - BlueMeteor
Voice Direction - Variety Central, Abraham Benson
Art Direction -
Character and Prop Design - Zeb the 3rd
Audio and Video Editing -
Score - Abraham Benson
Executive Producer - CleverHilarious 20

Voices:
Jake The 2nd - Bob
Gideon Larry - Larry, Jean-Claude, Scallion #2
DecaPJs - Junior
Abraham Benson - Freddy, Monster #1
Finnigan Rowe - Monster #3
Sean King - Christophe, Tom Grape
Blazedasonic - Ma Grape
FairyTailHero - Titan, Goliath
Shane Spicer - Pa Grape
Candy - Eren
Variety Central - Aether
JoeDavisEggy - The Priest, Benny
VeggieTales Collector - Lola the Cherry, Norman the Peach
David Knuckey - Jonathan
Alex Pikmin - Seti the Cherry, Levi, Monster #2
jordangaming101 - Coucho
VannaMontana106 - The Narrator, Rosie Grape

“Cook, Bake, Yay!” - written by Veston Bruno, performed by FairyTailHero, music by Abraham Benson, based on the Italian Street Song by Victor Herbert

“Rise Up” - written by Variety Central, music by Abraham Benson